#Create an artist's watch (ISO 8601) using Photoshop # # Photoshop can be used to create a nice composition of your favourite watch. It is important to choose a watch that has an excellent reflection and an equally sharp image. You can see an example of this technique in the second example above. To create such a watch, you need to combine your favourite photographs and one or more colours. To create an image that can later be used as a photo reference for the watch, open your favourite photo in Photoshop. Keep in mind that your watch would have to be on the axis if you will take the photograph from the side. The image in example two is the result after adjusting the color channel and the contrast. The original image is shown in the first example. The image can be a collage or you can add shadows, reflections and other textures manually. You can arrange the layers in Photoshop to create a watch with a special finish or to have several watches in one image. You can use Photoshop to create a stylish watch, or to create an image that can later be used as a reference for other images in the future.
