Aspekte Salzburg has been held at the Mozarteum since 1997. There, hundreds of concerts are given by first-class symphony orchestras, soloists, conductors, and conductors-in-training. In addition, we often feature works by young artists. Besides our regular series, the festival also offers special programs for children and young people. Founded in 2002, the Aspekte Institute is dedicated to the presentation of works by national and international composers for piano, chamber music, choir, orchestra, stage, film, and radio. Eng A collection of concerts is the natural result of a festival like Aspekte. Since 2007, the Salzburg Museums are the direct host of the festival. Concerts were held either in their special concert halls (such as the Salzburg Museum of Art or the Salzburg Museum of Musical Instruments) or in different churches around the city. The same applies to the Salzburg Mozart Festival, which is not connected to the Aspekte Institute, but which is also based in Salzburg.

Aussendienst Eng the Aspekte Institute offers the musicians as well as the audience the chance to get to know its repertoire. The Institute has a unique collection that includes works by national and international composers. Denkschrift$ 350 000 Eng The Institute can offer various forms of support for young artists. For instance, the Salzburger Musikschulen is affiliated with the Aspekte Institute, and offers the musicians from the Institute the opportunity to explore the various courses on offer at the University in Salzburg.

Schulabsprachen Eng The Aspekte Institute supports young artists with financial aid, professional guidance, and the opportunity to study at the Salzburger Musikschulen, thereby promoting the future of young artists.

Förderungen Eng The Aspekte Institute invites international composers to write a concerto for the piano and the orchestra based on the concept of the Salzburg Festival. Such creations are presented at the Salzburg Festival. The pieces then become part of the Aspekte

Institute's permanent repertoire. Konzerte: Eng After the completion of his solo career, the late Swiss pianist and composer David Popper has devoted himself in a particularly significant way to the promotion of young contemporary artists.

At the Aspekte Institute, he has given a series of lectures on a variety of subjects.
